What is BlairHacks?

BlairHacks is a 24-hour hackathon hosted annually by Montgomery Blair High School students in Silver Spring, MD. High school students across the world are challenged to bring their innovative ideas to life in the form of websites, apps, and robots. Our hackathon features collaboration, skill workshops, and mentorship from qualified professionals in all areas of computer science.

The 6th annual BlairHacks will take place in February 2022 and we're hoping for this year to be bigger and better than ever!

Our Mission

Our mission at BlairHacks is to share our passion for computer science with high school students across the DMV area. BlairHacks provides an unparalleled environment with resources that empower students to pursue their passions in the computer science field and collaborate with like-minded developers. Sponsoring BlairHacks is an incredible opportunity to promote computer science and engineering education and further the movement of student innovators.

Why we need YOU.

Every year at BlairHacks, we give away thousands of dollars in prizes, swag, and subscriptions and an invaluable amount of knowledge. To keep our hackathon FREE TO ALL STUDENTS, we rely on sponsors like you to help encourage the bright minds of the future of computer science!
